on display in the S. K. Johnston, Jr. Family Gallery and the Jacomien Mars Reception Gallery, beginning November 7, 2020

THE BRINTON MUSEUM (Big Horn, WY) again presents “The Brinton 101”, its well-liked small works show featuring more than 100 talented artists from throughout the U.S. Artwork in a variety of media and genres will be on display in the S. K. Johnston, Jr. Family Gallery and the Jacomien Mars Reception Gallery beginning November 7, continuing through December 21st.

Working in a small format, artists were invited to submit up to 3 pieces each with two-dimensional works not to exceed 8” x 10” and sculptures not to go beyond a size format of 12” x 8” x 10”, or smaller. “The Brinton 101” show remains popular with collectors and patrons for its affordability and quality of art.

“The Brinton’s small works exhibit offers persons an opportunity to purchase art by well-known and nationally recognized artists in a price range that is more easily affordable,” says Curator of Exhibitions Barbara McNab. “The diversity of art gets better each year with the bar getting higher with each show.” Visit The Brinton Museum’s website for information about the artists and retail prices on art in the exhibit.

A reception for the artists is scheduled for Saturday, November 7th, from 5 to 7 p.m. Check The Brinton website for more details closer to the date of November.

About The Brinton Museum: Founded in 1960, The Brinton Museum is a fine arts institution devoted to preserving the art and history of the West. Located on the historic Quarter Circle A Ranch in the foothills of the majestic Bighorn Mountains, it features 19th, 20th and 21st century American and Indian Art in a historic Western setting.

Museum admission for 2020 is FREE made possible by a donation from First Interstate Bank of Sheridan.
